Engineered Wood Flooring | Laminated Flooring | Decking & Cladding | SPC Flooring

Engineered wood flooring is basically a wooden plank consisting of real timber that has been carefully pressed into three or more layers. The layers are purposefully installed to run in entirely different directions, creating a more stable base than plain solid wood. Once the floor has been put in, only the top of these layers can be seen. Engineered wood is made of composite layers of cross-grained hardwoods, bonded with a heavy adhesive
